History of the College

It was a college starting from scratch – no name, no firm location and no construction funding. But from the moment the idea was born, Grossmont College promised to become one of the county’s leading higher education institutions. Following several years of study involving both lay and educational groups, the voters of the area approved the formation of the Grossmont Junior College District in an election held Nov. 8, 1960. The first official organizational meeting of the Grossmont Junior College Governing Board occurred July 1, 1961. With an opening enrollment of 1,538, the first college classes convened Sept. 11, 1961, on the Monte Vista High School campus in Spring Valley.

In an election held Sept. 18, 1962, voters approved a $7.5 million facilities bond. The Governing Board moved to purchase a 135-acre site located on a scenic mesa in the Fletcher Hills area adjacent to the cities of El Cajon and La Mesa. Ground was broken for the new campus in December 1963. Even before construction was completed, the administrative offices were moved to the new campus and classes opened Sept. 14, 1964. The Grossmont College campus was officially dedicated Dec. 12, 1964.

The first increment of the campus was planned to accommodate an enrollment of 2,500 daytime students, with the completed campus expected to serve 4,800 students. On Oct. 18, 1965, a second bond election for $3.5 million was passed by area voters, making it possible to complete the master plan. New facilities were completed Sept. 25, 1967.

In 1970, state legislation changed the term “junior college” in California codes to “community college.” On Jan. 6, 1971, the San Diego County Board of Education approved a petition from the Grossmont Junior College District to change its designation to the Grossmont Community College District. On March 5, 1985, the Governing Board officially changed the name of the district to the Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District (GCCCD) to reflect the establishment of Cuyamaca College.

Proposition R, the district’s $202 million facilities bond measure, was approved in 2002, allowing the construction of the Learning and Technology Resource Center, the Science Laboratory Building, the Digital Arts and Sculpture Building Complex, the Health and Sciences Complex, and a multi-story parking structure. The college’s new student center, Griffin Center, and the Student Services and Administrative Building opened in spring 2012.

In 2013, East County voters approved Proposition V, which made it possible to renovate or replace overcrowded and outdated facilities; upgrade campus technology; build the new Performing and Visual Arts Center; improve safety, security, and access for people with disabilities; build a modern and larger Student Veterans Center; and create a new math and science building with new classrooms and student-serving spaces.

Today, Grossmont College is transforming lives through education by offering more than 150 degree and certificate programs, including university transfer and career education courses. Grossmont College also offers a full range of student activities and clubs, as well as 17 intercollegiate athletic teams.

The Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District is an economic engine that is the largest provider of higher education and job training in the East County.

The total number of degrees and certificates awarded in 2023-2024 is 4,260.

The Grossmont College Seal

The seal of Grossmont College is used on official academic documents. It includes the Griffin symbol, which is the half-eagle, half-lion of Greek mythology, combining their qualities of courage, strength, and swiftness. The Griffin was charged with guarding the treasures of the ancient world. The three Greek words are Tharros, Dynamis, and Philosophia, which means courage, strength, and love of wisdom.

Degrees and Certificates Granted

Granting of the associate in arts degree or the associate in science degree to a student indicates successful completion of basic and general educational requirements plus evidence of proficiency in a specialized field. In addition, a certificate of achievement is available to those who have attained well-defined levels of skill and knowledge in designated areas. As a member of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges and the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges, certain courses taken at Grossmont College are accepted on transfer by the University of California, all California State Universities, and by most public and private four-year colleges and universities throughout the United States.

2023-2024 Full-Time Distinguished Faculty Honoree

Gregg Robinson Sociology

At Grossmont College, Dr. Gregg Robinson stands as a beacon of academic excellence with more than three decades of teaching and with a deep commitment to social justice and equity.

In his 35 years of service at Grossmont College, Professor Robinson has been praised for maintaining the same energy, excitement, and passion in the classroom as though he had only recently started teaching. For his contributions to his community and Grossmont College, Professor Robinson has been awarded the 2023-2024 Distinguished Faculty Award.

Professor Robinson goes above and beyond to make himself available to students, engage them with the course material, and ensure their success. Robinson's preparation and excitement in the classroom are evident in his superb student evaluations.

Students consistently rate him high in his teaching evaluations and describe their remarkable experiences in his classes. One student noted, "Professor Robinson was such a fun and engaging teacher." Another student said, "Amazing lectures. One-of-a-kind teacher. Very smart and knowledgeable." Another student also captured Gregg's compassion and devotion to student success during the pandemic by stating, "Gregg is the best teacher that I have had in college. He is so caring and does whatever it takes to get people to pass his class."

Robinson stays current on the latest research in sociology. He conducts research, writes articles on his findings, and presents at professional conferences—all of which are incorporated into his teaching materials. Robinson also uses his expertise in sociology to address social issues affecting the San Diego region. He conducted a study that focused on teachers' attitudes toward poverty in San Diego. On another project, he focused on the issue of local affordable housing. These two examples demonstrate his commitment to using his expertise beyond the academic setting to improve local communities.

Robinson's interest in social justice led him to be a strong supporter of efforts to provide affordable housing in San Diego. This is a significant issue to him as some Grossmont College students face homelessness. Robinson served as chair of the Affordable Housing Coalition of San Diego from 2008-2012. He also served as vice president of the Peninsula Community Planning Board from 2001 to 2007.

Student Speaker

Zachary Mass

Zachary Mass said he's enjoyed attending Grossmont College, with supportive professors and counselors, involvement in the Radio Club, and a 3.5 grade point average. He was selected as Grossmont College's student speaker for the 2024 commencement.

Mass notes that his academic journey before he came to Grossmont College "hasn't always been sunshine and rainbows." His academic challenges started in third grade and reached a boiling point when he was in eighth grade and was expelled from his middle school. He spent two years in a special education school before he was able to return to a mainstream high school.

Mass said he had to learn to control his emotions and not become enraged when he suffered a rejection or setback. "I learned that there's always going to be more to experience," Mass said. "Even if I get a bad test grade or have a falling-out with friends, there's always going to be more people to meet and more things to do. That's not the end of the world." Or to put it simply, "I just learned how to chill out a little bit," he said.

Mass, who grew up in the Bay Area town of San Ramon, said he wanted to come to San Diego to be with friends who attend San Diego State University. Grossmont College popped up on his website search, and he liked the idea of attending a community college known as "Harvard on the hill."

Mass, a communication major, praised his instructors. "That's been my favorite thing at this school," he said. "All the professors have been really supportive. I email them and they get back to me soon."

Mass has been active in the Radio Club, and has been announcing at Grossmont College sports events. He will be transferring to San Diego State University to earn a bachelor's degree in communication, and hopes to have a career in sports broadcasting.

"People ask me what sport I'd like to broadcast. It's whatever one will hire me," he said. He advised anyone who is considering attending Grossmont College to get involved in some of the many activities the college offers. "Just be as social as you can," he said. "If you're cooperative and be yourself, it will work out fine."

Associated Students of Grossmont College (ASGC)

MISSION STATEMENT: The ASGC strives to represent the interest and concerns of all Grossmont College students through improving the quality of campus life, promoting awareness of issues affecting students, and providing philanthropic support that strengthens partnerships within the campus community.

HISTORICAL OVERVIEW: The ASGC was created July 1, 1961, to serve the students of Grossmont College. Early in the college's existence, the ASGC selected the college colors (green and gold) and mascot (griffin), and established student government. The ASGC was instrumental in the building and operating of the bookstore, financing scholarships to countless students, providing needed equipment and technologies campuswide, and launching the district's phone-in registration system. In recent years, the ASGC supported the Prop. R facilities bond issue and funded the major portion of the resurfacing of the running track.

The ASGC continues to be the source through which Grossmont College students expand their experiences far beyond what they obtain from classroom instruction alone.
